What knowledge and skills will an apprentice learn?

Apprentices will learn through online workshops and one-to-one sessions with a Get Set UK Learning Development Mentor and specialist trainers, covering:

- How to provide feedback in development, health & safety responsibilities, safeguarding, mental health and submitting referrals.
- Effective communication techniques for different audiences, the impact of enrichment activities on learner development and the learning, assessment and feedback cycle.
- Apply learning resources, tech, and curriculum frameworks to meet outcomes.
- Methods of observing, recording, and reporting learner progress, and applying teaching strategies and interventions to support diverse learning needs.
- Setting clear learning targets, tracking progress, and supporting both academic and personal development to help learners succeed.

What experience will the employer need to provide?

The apprentice will need to have the opportunity to regularly carry out the following tasks:

- Practice strategies that promote independent learning while using behaviour management techniques in line with policies.
- Create an inclusive environment where learners adapt communication and build positive relationships.
- Access and use a variety of resources and adapt them to support diverse learning needs.
- Use assessments to guide development.
- Observe, record and report on learner progress, using assessments to track and guide development.

What is involved in the end-point assessment (EPA)?

- Observation with questions
- Professional discussion underpinned by a portfolio of evidence
